I am, as ever, yours,

OFFICERS' HOSPITAL, LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN, NEAR CHATTANOOGA, TEN., July 18, 1864. COL. A. G. HODGES:

My dear old Friend: You will reco lect that we fought long together as patriated themselves, and shall no longer be Whigs, and then again as "knownothings;" and now we are fighting together for the Union ; -you, in your appropriate field of action, and I in mine. I have not seen your paper for a year past; but hear of it often. I find your prospectus in the 'Union Press," but have not heard of your paper being in the front. I perceive that you do not call yourself an "Abolitionist," nor an "Administration man;" but merely aspire to conduct "a loyal newspaper, devoted to maintaining the Government, and putting down the Insurrection.

Now, it seems to me, that I am with you in that work. I can not say to what one of the existing parties I belong: but. having participated in the exercises at Donelson, Shiloh, Corinth, Chickamauga, Mission Ridge, and in this tremendous campaign against Atlanta, and having spilt my blood that thing even in Kentucky! I am, as you solved know, a native Kentuckian, and I think I can stand this test of loyalty. But many friends will be horrified, if I should do so But the loyalty of such is quite different from mine. Their's is of the stay-at-home kind. They expect to remain quietly at home, while the Government, by the use of us,-the soldiers in the field,-puts down the rebellion; and they desire that the Govern ment shall do this without touching the institution of slavery, although that was the of the wealth and power of the States in rebellion. That institution, in their eyes, is sacred, and must not be touched, even for the punishment of traitors to our country Especially in Kentucky, it must not be interferred with-even in thought! To do so, would be criminal; as much so as it was, in the early history of the British constitution, to imagine the King's death.

Thousands of the best men, of this or any country, or age, have given their lives to their country, in this vast struggle for its very life. Yet there are many Kentuckians, some of whom call themselves "Union who are horrified that negroes, whether bond or free, should become diers, and do battle for the Union. In their estimation, a negro is not good enough to fight for the Union; but how good, or how bad, are those white men who will not fight for it at all? They will admit frankly, that a negro has a soul; and that he is less savage than the wild Indian, with and against whom our ancestors fought in the Revolution, and in the war of 1812. Why then do these people become rabid at the thought of the negro becoming a soldier in the Union

Is it the question of interest, -dollars, and cents,-that makes the trouble? A Union man enlists his able bodied negro man, gets for him $300, and $100 bount Now this may be four or six hundred dollars less than his market value. Can not a Union man stand this, especially if he does not himself enlist? I think he can. If his go. It is not worth having. Such a sacrifice is nothing. Your friend, the writer, is a mere grain of sand on the seashore in this great army. He gave up the care of his family; gave up his business; took his first born child with him into this war, and lost that son, and has risked his own life a thousand times, and will not cease to risk it; and he thinks that any man, who is a true Union man will, if he has a thousand negro men, give freedom to them alt, if they will become defenders of the Union.

Murder of Gibson Mallory, Esq.

We copy from the Louisville Journal, o July 28, the annexed notice of the murder of GIBSON MALLORY, Esq. Mr. MALLORY was a well known citizen of Jefferson, and his death creates a vacancy in the State Sen

At Il o'clock on Tuesday night, as Mr. Gibson Mallory, with his son, was returning home from the city in his buggy, when three miles and a half from the city he was halted by a man standing in the road, armed with a short gun or a cavalry carbine. Mr. Mallory reined in his horse and inquired sympathizers, the Louisville Journal seized what was wanted. The man replied by ask upon this circular to give aid and comfort to ing, "Where are you are going?" The reply, we believe, was not fully understood, and Mr. M. said that he would not turn back, but would go forward He slapped the reins on the horse's back, and the animal started forward. The assassin raised his carbine and fired. The ball entered the left side of Mr. Mallory passed upward, and came out in the regio of the right shoulder, whizzing past the head of the son. Young M. drew a pistol and fired at the scoundrel, but the aim was untrue. He was in the act of reaching for is father's revolver to repeat the shot, when Mr. Mallory fell forward in the buggy. On raising him to the seat, he was found to be dead. The buggy was driven rapidly forward, and the murderer was left behind. On arriving at the house the family was shocked by the greeting prepared for them. The dead body of the murdered husband and father was removed from the buggy to the house, and the bed-chamber became the current at the complex of death. FIUX STRICKLAND'S ANTI-CHOLERA MIXTURE!!

Sa composition of astringents, absorbents, stimulants and carminatives, which every physician acknowledges is the only preparation that will effect a permanent cure of Diarrhoea and Dysentery. This Anti-Cholera Mixture is now in use in several of our army hospitals where it gives the greatest satisfaction. It has saved the lives of thousands of our soldiers and citizens, and we will guarantee it to be the best remedy in the world for Diarrhea and Dysentery.

Mr. Woods, of Covington, Ky., will be most happy to satisfy any one as to the virtue of Strickland's Anti-Cholera Mixture; in fact we have a great number of testimonials from patients who have been cured after being pronounce urable by their physicians, some after taking only one bottle of Strickland's Anti-Cholera Mixture. If you suffer with Diarrhea and Dysentery try one bottle.

annum to its value. THE RATE OF INTEREST on this loan, although but five per cent. in coin is as much greater in currency, as the difference between the market value of currency and gold.

AS A RULE, the five per cent. specie securities of all solvent governments are always par or above, and currency now funded in the National Loan, will be worth its face in gold, besides paying a egular and liberal percentage to the holder. NO SECURITIES OFFER SO GREAT IN-DUCEMENTS, it is believed, as the various de eriptions of U.S. Bonds. In all other forms of ndebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties or stock companies or separate communities only is pledged for payment, while for the debts of the United States the whole property of the country is holden to secure the payment of both principal and interest in coin. THE FUNDED DEBT OF THE UNITED
